THE annual charge of this paper, to subscribers, is two dollars, exclusive of postage
one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing and the other at the commencement of the publication. Advertisements, of no more length than breadth, inserted three times for a dollar—no
Fourth of a Dollar for every succeeding insertion.

The gentleman with whom subscription papers are lodged will please to transact, in the
"Argus," all business connected with the papers, and to continue their list open for subscriptions.
October 16, 1792.

INTELLIGENCE.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 10.
The division of the combined fleet, de-
nated for the north sea, sailed the found,
after having several days waited for a favorable wind.

ALTONA, Aug. 20.
The Danish Ambassador who refused
some time at London, passed through Prague on his return to Copenhagen.

LEHORN, Aug. 17.
This morning the English fleet, under the command of Vice-Admiral Horatian, entered our harbour; it is composed of 28
ships of the line.

At Naples the arrears are continued with grave anxiety. Eleven portions of the first rank have been arrested.

Letters from Cagliari, of the 7th, inform us that the margrave, having discovered
the general who was thrown into prison for crimes against the people, was suddenly dragged from his dungeon by the furious mob, who in the meantime, clothed him in his uni-iform, dispersed him by a discharge of guns, without giving him time to confess himself. They also peremptorily pronounced that principles of insubordination, and of civil war, exist in every part of Sar-dina.

Two memorials have already been sent to the court of Turin for a re-establishment of the ancient privileges of the island, which conflit in a government elected by the peoples, and tribunaries to the government of Sar-dina, and not in a government of Piedmontese governors.

LEHORN, Aug. 19.
The formation of the public mind affords us reason to suppose that some defensive and disastrous events will occur in Sar-dina, against the partitions of the present government.

DELHOMSTORP, Sept. 18.
British Head-Quarters.

In consequence of the enemy's having crossed the Rhine, orders are illud to this army to hold itself in readiness to move at very short notice. It has not yet been transferred whether we shall move; but it is likely that the movement will be an advanced, rather than a retrograde one. We are informed of its intention to march in the rear, and at a considable distance from the main body of the au-tility.

That the Portuguese of Hanover is the object of the French, seems beyond all doubt; and should they succeed in their attempt (in which I cannot conceive the least difficulty), they will act with a new degree of ferocity towards the inhabitants, who the other night, from the capture of the publication should continue after that time.

Advertisements, no more length
than breadth, inserted three times for a dollar—one Fourth of a Dollar for every succeeding insertion.

The gentleman with whom subscription papers are lodged will please to transact, in the
"Argus," all business connected with the papers, and to continue their list open for subscriptions.

FRIDAY, November 27, 1792.

No. 9.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.
Extrait of a letter from the captain of the ship Somers, to his owner, dated Bermuda, Nov. 3.
"You ship Somersale was sold by the marshals of the admiralty, for $200, this currency. I am coming with captain William in the ship Two Friends to Philadelphia in a day or two. I shall have my papers, I believe, in good order; I imagine the people on the continent have no idea that your ship which has been taking out people through their islands, with much abuse and insult, with their ships of war and privates.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.
On Tuesday last arrived here, after a trip of seven weeks, the schooner White Films, built last summer at Presbyerite, on lake Erie. The tidewaters of the voyage were very to the inclination of the weather:
the ice is only seventeen and a half feet dek, and five feet seven inches beam. This small vessel was built and navigated by two young men, citizens of the United States, near the vicity of this city; they had neither chart nor compass. Had departure was from Presbyerite along lake Erie, to the falls of Niagara, one hundred and ten miles; thence by land, to the landing below the falls, ten miles; thence to the garrison of Niagara, seven miles; thence along the south coast of lake Ontario, to the river Oswego, one hundred and forty miles; thence up the Seneca to the falls, twenty miles; thence by land, round the falls, one mile;
thence up the Seneca river to the three river point, twelve miles; thence up the Iroquois, eighteen miles; thence through the Chena lake, twenty-eight miles; thence up wood Creek, thirty miles; thence along wood Creek, and the Mohawk river; thence by land, pursing fort Sculler, formerly fort Stanwix, one mile, into the Mohawk river; thence down the Mohawk river, sixty miles, to the little falls; thence round the falls by land,
the same as to the Seneca river, forty six miles, to Schenectady, thence by land, sixteen, miles, to Albany, thence down the river Hudson, one hundred and twenty miles, to New York; thence by sea, one hundred and six miles, to the Capes of the Delaware river, thence up the Delaware to city, one hundred and twenty miles—making in all,
ine hundred and forty seven miles.

The men of war, which were engaged in the fighting at the same time, was a disinterested experiment, to prove some of the great advantages which may, in future be developed in the United States, from a proper settlement in and about the new town of Erie, in this State. The White fish (to give the Indian name) and the Chena (the Lake lakes) sail-anchor directly opposite marked wharf, and gave the city a federal nave of fifteen round forts from lake Erie, which was returned by three heavy cheers from a multitude of citizens who crowded the wharves and the vessels, in this part, to receive them. For there is no part of the navy on this coast, that has not undergone an unexpected navigation, the two together certainly deserve well of their country.

NOVEMBER 18.

By the arrival of Capt. Half, at New York, on the 25th, come from Albany, where he informs us, that the French ships of the line, had taken 22 English vessels and 29 Portuguese.
There is every reason to believe, that the 22 sail
had escaped from the frigates from Jamaica.

We learn from Cape Francois, that all is very peaceful in that quarter. Jean Francois having heard of the alleged
by the convention to undergo his trial,
had taken refuge in the mountains of St.

WINCHESTER, Nov. 9.
Extrait of a letter from an officer in the Wifter army, dated Greenwich, Nov. 5.
"It is generally reported, that part of the legion will move towards Detroit in a few days; I shall follow as fast as the ge, being annexed to the light infantry."

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.
The Cincinnati paper of the 16th of October last, informs us that a number of performers were to leave that place for Pitt-burgh, by the way of Chilicothe, through Litttle Miami, cross Sciota at Darby's Town, Middletown, at the mouth of White Woman's Creek, or Fort Lawrence. The dis-ance of this tour is computed at about six miles, and it is said, by those acquainted with the country; a good road may be had.
Should the present quiet continue, it may prove to be permanent, a road by this tour will, no doubt, be opened, as the distance is not far from a great part of the present one to that country.

The troops at Presbyerite we are told,
without uneasiness.

We are informed, that owing to the feitures among the troops and citizens at Presbyerite, the fortifications are not in such a state as our spies might reasonably have been expected. Two brick houses, picked in, are in a fair way of being completed.

We are also informed, that gen Wayne's
army is very large, and that the city of Cincin-

mil, age and less.

ARGUS; AND NEW JERSEY CENTINEL.
PUBLISHED (NO REPRINT) BY M. KENZIE AND W. WESTCOTT, BRIDGE-TOWN.
TEST RECEIVED.

Pepperine white tallow mould candles, different sizes, plain and burred in boxes, with tapers, &c. Also, Massage, Fish, Salmon in barrels. Short in large, size, and in small.

Soup of large, small, and in small, Cofee in bags.

A few tons plates of pasture, very good, Madeira and mulberry wines, in pipes and quarter casks, for sale by Y. Mannering, No. 165, South Front street, Philadelphia.

wgt

FOR SALE.

Two Tracts of land, in Northumberland, and county, State of Pennsylvania, in or ad joining Bald Eagle township, on the west branch of the river Susquehanna, containing four hundred and twenty acres each, with large allowance for roads, &c.

These lands were taken up and patented by the particular direction of the honorable Thomas McKean, chief judge of the State of Pennsylvania, whose peculiar opportunity, when riding the circuits, and polishing the soft information of society, made it necessary of all these lands need not be questioned. The above tracts are very precise of twelve tracts, and are enclosed in several descriptions, whether the surveyor chose for his services. It jointly tinctures and the river Susquehanna, for terms apply at the office of the Argus.

R. A. N. A. W.

An Apprentice is named Riley Long about nineteen years of age, five feet six inches high, flaxen, with black eyes. Whenever takes up the said, or any other, shall receive one finding reward and no charges by

JOHN RIMINGTON.

November 24th, 1799.

J. O. R. M. O. R. R. O. D. D. R.

Bookbinder and Stationery, Franklin's head No. 14, Cliff, street, Philadelphia.

Thas been, as well, a flourishing stock of ancient and modern, European and American publications: consisting of Books in various languages, with the French, English, and American, and a large stock of Arabic books, together with a number of elegant prints, a general allotment of stationery, and a large stock of Orders to J. O. for any articles in the line of his business, executed with punctuality, and on moderate terms.

An Apprentice Wanted to the Printing business. Apply to the Printer hereof.

NOTICE.

Is hereby given, that in consequence of polite instructions from Philadelphia, for the benefit of the revenue in the state of New Jersey, all retailers of wines and foreign distilled spirits and procata and to this end, to the discretion of this director who do not immediately comply with the carriage and licence left will be proceeded against the duties and penalties prescribed in the respective laws.

Nov. 16, 1799. JOSEPH BUCK.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of Daniel McKie, deceased, either by hand, note, or bank account are requested to discharge the same, after which they will be protected as the law directs.

JOSEPH OGDEN, Administrator.

November 16th.

Levee Office.

This may inform all those concerned, that the ninth year interest on the Country Mortgages, and the second payment of the principal, will be due on Tuesday, the first of December next. The public creditors of the County will open at the Levee Office, on the morning of Mr. Henry Haines at Bridgetown on the day aforesaid, and attend on each Tuesday in said month, to transact the duties required by law.

We earnestly request that punctual payers may be enabled to settle our accounts with the public without undergoing the disagreeable necessity of following any Mortgage relations, which will be done, it in arrear after the expiration of thirty days from the time when due.

JAMES CLARK.

Crown Office.

Commissary of the Levee Office.

Cumberland County, Nov. 26th 1799.

By virtue of an Order from the Officer's Court, to be as directed, will be expeditious public Vendue on the 29th of next month, a route and lot in Fairfield Township, adjoining lands of Thomas Burgh and Levi Dart, about midway between Bumberry and New England town roads, in a farming condition it is very convenient for a farm, and is now occupied as such by Thomas Ogden. To be sold as part of the estate of Daniel McKie, deceased.

JOSEPH OGDEN.

November 26th.

CHOUANS.

The following account of the people called Chouans, is translated from the Sentinelle, a Paris paper, and from the deputy's corrigés.

In the first line the details were communicated by René Delfée, author of the celebrated Maratissan Hyperion.

They are, for Delfée, is said in Paris about the Chouans, but very few people have this right. The incontinent and the system of fomentors. They are not one, a horde of deluded wretches, laboring under the influence of the greatest infatuation and most sordid and base impulses, dispersed in small bands of from 50 to 200 men, who think nothing of betraying their countrymen and murderers, and justified, that is, only to the command in their errours of wretchedness and the most dishonorable punishment. They have preserved the ancient government, for it must be admitted that the will and will to distinguish some of the congress of Louis XVIII., were formerly galley slaves of France branded with eternal infamy in the mustering columns.

The committee of these brigands exceeds all belief, but for this very reason, is less dangerous. If the affection appears apparent, they are not less culpable.

They raise arms against the government, and have seen the government and the whole of the nation, and the whole army.

They are, they say, that the national government, and the whole army.

They are, they say, that the national government, and the whole army.

They are, they say, that the national government, and the whole army.

They are, they say, that the national government, and the whole army.

They are, they say, that the national government, and the whole army.

The congress of Louis XVIII., were formerly galley slaves of France branded with eternal infamy in the mustering columns.

The congress of Louis XVIII., were formerly galley slaves of France branded with eternal infamy in the mustering columns.

C O M M U N I C A T I O N.

A Savannah observer affirms that he cannot comprehend the ingenuity of the American papers in the publication of their interesting and entertaining communications by anticipation. By comparing the number of the articles from Carolina and Georgia, and from the capital city, he finds the number of the papers from Carolina and Georgia, and from the capital city, he finds the number of the papers from Carolina and Georgia, and from the capital city.

November 30th, 1799.

J. O. R. M. O. R. R. O. D. D. R.

Extract from Mr. Hamilton's explanation of the subject of the constitutional rights of the city.

How far the President was prone to the course of advancing, I cannot say—Bill it certainly they have been all made to his instruction, and to the same effect, a general sentiment, and not by special directions from Democratic orders, in the same degree, and probably before any advance was made, on an application by Mr. Lear, for a form which could be considered as a constitutional bill, and act the same manner as the above bill in this (of X), if in your opinion, it can be done, and I am of the same opinion, and I am sure that I had no idea of either.
LONDON, Sept. 28.

Having received a letter containing an ample confirmation of the news which was communicated to you publicly in my letter of Wednesday last, I have been enabled to certify that the republic has been formed, and that the republicans are to be met by the troops of France.

Mr. Hamilton, the late secretary of the treasury, has published an explanation on the subject of the late attack upon the president of the United States, and in it is mentioned that the fire was communicated by means of inflammatory papers, and that particulars of this important affair have not yet come to hand.

By a gentleman who arrived from London, we are told that a ship from Bordeaux for Baltimore, arrived after a long passage, the run short of provisions, in consequence of which the passengers threw themselves overboard and were drowned.

Extract of a letter, dated Concord, November 13.

Last week, the grand jury of this county, upon the recommendation of the court, by Judge Ruth, the president, voted the 200,000 for a stone arch bridge over the river Schuykill, at this town, on the road leading to Harritonburg.

BRIDGE TOWN, November 27.

Extract of a letter, to the Editors, from a number of the legislature, dated Trenton November 27.

"Enclosed in a letter of the titles of all the laws which have yet passed both branches of the legislature. Several other acts, which have gone through the assembly, particularly, an act for the punishment of crimes, and another for the support of government.

"I believe the legislature will sit on Tuesday or Wednesday next."

"A list of the acts passed at the first sitting of the legislature of New Jersey, from October 24, in November 1795."

"A supplement to an act entitled, for building bridges over the river Hackensack, and for other purposes thereof mentioned. Passed Nov. 10."

"A supplemental to an act entitled, an act to enable the inhabitants of certain towns and townships to repair their public highways by him."

"To raise the sum of fifteen thousand pounds for the year 1796."

"An act concerning the public road to New York and New-Jersey."

"A resolution of the house of assembly and vice-president of the council at twenty millions."